REMEMBRANCE DAY

November 11th

A remembrance poppy distributed by the Royal Canadian Legion worn on a lapel

Veterans Affairs Canada states that Remembrance Day (Jour du Souvenir) is intended for "remembrance for the men and women who have served, and continue to serve our country during times of war, conflict and peace"; particularly the First and Second World Wars, the Korean War, and all conflicts since then in which members of the Canadian Armed Forces have participated.^[18] The department runs a program called Canada Remembers, with the mission of helping young and new Canadians, most of whom have never known war, "come to understand and appreciate what those who have served Canada in times of war, armed conflict, and peace stand for and what they have sacrificed for their country."

Mocs on the Move

Rock Your Mocs occurs November 10–16 in the middle of Native American Heritage Month. This event started in 2011 when New Mexico student and Laguna Pueblo tribe member Jessica Atsye started an online campaign encouraging Indigenous people to wear moccasins in a show of cultural pride. The trend has spread across the globe, with native peoples of all cultures now photographing their unique Indigenous footwear and proudly posting the pictures online.

Moccasins are traditionally the footwear of Indigenous tribes of North America. While the construction of leather footwear is generally very similar, the intricate designs, beadwork, quillwork, paint, fur, fringes, and embroidery help distinguish tribal affiliation. Each pair is like a work of art; each pair is as unique as its wearer. Everyone is invited to participate in the fun of Rock Your Mocs and wear moccasins “wherever your day takes you.”

Years of Service

NOVEMBER

Is a month with some excitement in the air,
 Getting out winter clothes that are warm to wear.
 The leaves are on the ground, but they are going to disappear when the snow begins to fall.
 Children waiting just for the snow to fall Anxious to build a snow fort with sturdy walls.
 A sloping hill and some cardboard to ride. Makes a wonderful bumpy slide.
 The puppies se excited to get out in the snow.
 Jumping around to and fro.
 Chasing snowflakes before they hit the ground, looking for another one to be found Leaping at snowballs you've thrown in the air.
 The stores are busier now with customers' galore.
 The shoppers are rushing from store to store and still must buy more and more.
 Excitement is building you can feel it in the air.
 Children are making their wish list with hopes Santa will come there. Dawna T.

Aged to Purrfection

November is Adopt a Senior Pet Month, a time to give older pets a chance to find a loving home.
 Senior pets often get overlooked in favor of puppies and kittens, but they have so much to offer. They're usually already trained, which means fewer chewed-up shoes and more cuddle time. Their personalities are fully developed, so you know what you're getting—no surprises! Plus, senior pets are typically calmer and more content to relax with you.

 Adopting a senior pet can be incredibly rewarding. These pets are often the first to be euthanized in shelters, so giving them a home literally saves their lives. They are just as loving and loyal as younger ones, and they often bond deeply with their new families. This November, consider visiting your local shelter and meeting some senior pets. You might find a perfect companion who's ready to spend their golden years giving you endless love and companionship.

You don't need to be a mapmaker to appreciate geography. We are physical beings who inhabit a physical landscape: our homes lie on the earth, our food comes from the earth, the weather affects our daily routines. We constantly manage our relationships with the world around us in order to survive, thrive, and be happy. In all of these ways, we live through geography every day.

The best way to celebrate is to get out and explore your local geography. But before you do, take this short quiz on geographical terms. Match the term to the definition below.

1. peninsula
2. tundra
3. antipodes
4. estuary
5. mesa

- A. Where a river meets the sea or ocean
- B. A pair of points that are on opposite sides of the planet
- C. A mountainous land formation that is flat on the top with steep walls
- D. A body of land surrounded by water on three sides
- E. A cold, treeless area

Now that you've taken our quiz, go out and explore the local geography. What geographical terms describe your area?

ANSWERS: 1. D; 2. E; 3. B; 4. A; 5. C

November Birthdays

Those born between November 1–21 are passionate Scorpios, considered the most intense sign in the zodiac. While on the outside Scorpios are calm and composed, inside they are forceful, emotional, determined, and ambitious. If you were born between November 22–30, you are Sagittarius, the Archer. Archers are optimistic, energetic, generous, and honest. They enjoy exploration and keep an open mind during new encounters.
